AFTER selling their West Village townhouse at a loss last year for $18.25 million, Sarah Jessica Parker and Matthew Broderick — who reportedly never lived in that property — are on the house hunt just a bit farther west. Parker was recently spotted several times at The Shephard, a new luxury condo at 275 W. 10th St. (above) from the Naftali Group. The building was formerly a warehouse before morphing into a rental building in 1975. It's now being transformed into 38 prewar style two- to five-bedroom condo residences. Available units range from $4.95 million to $11.85 million.

TV ROYALS: Broderick and Parker eyed condos on West 10th Street.
